

Upload CSV File

When a file is uploaded to the app, the system checks if the file metadata already exists in the uploaded files table. If it doesn't, the content is saved to the table in the database and the metadata is saved to another table. Otherwise a exception is thrown.

The file content is saved in the database, while the file metadata is saved in a separate table. This process involves the database, server, app, and user.

